

Who is ITA Dynamics?

ITA Dynamics is the first business partner providing an Enterprise wide business application for the Waste & Recycling market sector and all its micro verticals. ITA was founded in 1984 and subsequently ITA WMS Corporation, dba ITA Dynamics followed to allow for more vertical expertise in the Waste and Recycling industry.

We learned early on in our company life cycle, that to make a difference in our customer's lives we needed eat, drink and live in their world. You must specialize in few things to be able to provide insight and develop best practices for an industry. But you must be broad enough to allow customers to change, adapt, grow and expand who they are. Structure is a good thing, process is a good thing, but you must not limit management creativity on new growth areas.

Our team of senior system engineers, architects, and consultants specialize in improving complex systems through solutions for clients whose products and processes must meet the most demanding of regulatory controls and requirements. From initial concept through testing and validation, our development, management, and production solutions lead to better products and processes

Our ultimate goal is to assist each customer in achieving or surpassing their revenue targets and fully control operational costs. This is achieved by greatly reducing the amount of business applications an organization uses, centralizing data, and reducing time spent on redundant tasks and manual related activities.
